XML / EDI For the Future!

The Day One NOVA AI-Ready module allows appraisers to take advantage of the cutting-edge technology created by a partnership between Day One, the Appraisal Institute, and FNC. When combined with AppraisalPort, an online appraisal ordering and management system for lenders, appraisal communications between appraiser and lender become streamlined. Day One NOVA was the first appraisal forms software to be AI-Ready and as of this guide's publication, Day One is the ONLY appraisal software package to have all nineteen approved forms available for complete AI Ready transfer to and from all systems.

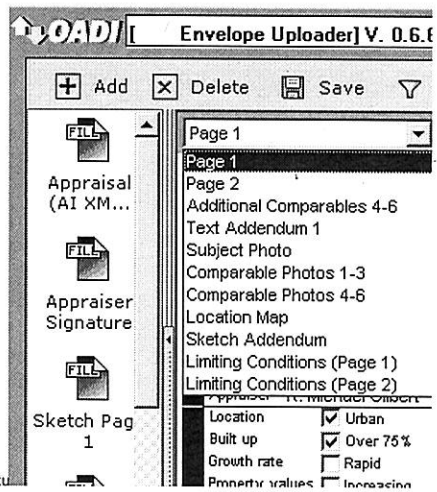

The Day One NOVA AI-Ready module is so comprehensive and up-to-date that when AppraisalPort demonstrates their system to other companies, they use Day One NOVA as their model. Jump on board and gain an edge on your competitors with the EDI standard of the future that's here today!

Download Directly From AppraisalPort...

With Day One NOVA's AI-Ready module, appraisers can log into their AppraisalPort site and download appraisal orders directly into Day One NOVA Forms software. This seamless integration allows lenders to make an appraisers job easier. All the information that your banking clients have already entered about the property and the borrower imports automatically into Day One NOVA Forms. Save valuable time and money while eliminating errors.

Day One was the FIRST company to produce AI-Ready Appraisal Software and is currently the ONLY APPRAISAL SOFTWARE that is compliant with the current AI-Ready standard. Don't take our word for it, though... click here to visit the AI Ready web site.

The term "AI Ready" means Appraisal Institute Ready. It is a designation given to technology developed by FNC and the Appraisal Institute and adopted by Day One and Appraisal.com. Day One NOVA AI Ready appraisal forms software uses a programming language called XML (extensible markup language) to deliver appraisal data via the Internet. Appraisers can use AI Ready software to pull data from the Appraisal Institute Residential Database (AIRD) into their forms without rekeying, contribute data to AIRD for compensation, or deliver appraisal files to their clients by submitting them through AppraisalPort.

National Online Comparable Database...

Day One's AI-Ready module allows appraisers to upload and download comparable property information with AIRDPort, the first truly comprehensive national property database of both public and private record data created by and designed for appraisers. All property information in AIRDPort comes from the voluntary contributions of appraisers, who may choose to participate or opt-out of sending data to AIRDPort. Day One's AI-Ready module allows appraisers to tap into this database to work smarter, not harder... and save time in the process!

Quick & Easy To Use Appraisal Delivery...

In a few simple steps watch completed appraisals convert to the AI-Ready format and upload to any client. No muss, no fuss. The time it takes your appraisers to produce and transmit appraisals will shrink instantly with the Day One AI-Ready module.

The Inside Edge...

Why wait months or years for your software vendor to catch up with technology advances? Day One works closely with AppraisalPort, the Appraisal Institute, and FNC so that the latest updates to their standards (and your lending clients) are always up-to-date.

Many of the world's largest lending institutions use AppraisalPort and the AI-Ready standard to send and receive appraisal orders. Some lenders even use the system exclusively, and will not send orders to appraisers that are not AI Ready. Become AI-Ready today and instead of losing these orders, get the jump on your competition!

Note that, in addition to the $75 per user licensing fee, there is a $75 per year annual fee to maintain your AI-ready software license.
